

Augmented NAC - the Ultimate Spike Protein Detox

Augmented NAC is a groundbreaking food supplement developed for effective spike protein detox, a central component in the recovery from COVID-19, 'long Covid' and any toxication from mRNA COVID-19 related treatments.

Augmented NAC, manufactured using a proprietary process to increase (augment) its potency specifically for COVID-19 - and jab related spike protein detox, has proven a 99% efficacy in spike detox over the standard NAC's 12%-15%.

The spike protein has been found to contribute to cancer, cardiovascular, neurological injuries, blood clotting, and can cause autoimmune conditions, cell deformation and cell fusion damage. The spike protein is known to cross the blood-brain barrier causing memory loss and brain fog, and can even trigger a stroke or cause other neurological issues.

Manufacturers of the mRNA "Covid-vaccine" said the injection-induced spike protein would clear itself naturally from the body within two weeks, however information from the respected pathologist Professor Arne Burkhardt in Germany, who died last year, and from a freedom of information request from Pfizer's own nonclinical evaluation report submitted to the Australian Department of Health, shows it does not clear from the body. Pfizer and other "Covid-vaccine" manufacturers have since admitted that it can damage major organs, including the ovaries, liver, spleen and adrenal glands. Doctors around the world are currently struggling to treat their patients affected by the consequences of Spike protein intoxication.

Fortunately, there is a remedy to detox from the spike, with hundreds of testimonials reported by patients and their doctors. Health practitioners, with no financial interest in the product, are calling it a 'game-changer'. Pulmonary and critical care specialist Dr Pierre Kory told the Better Way conference: "I integrated Augmented NAC into my practice two months ago (2022 - redaction note). Not everybody responds but some testimonials are really earth-shattering."

Dr Peers (UK), herself injured by two AstraZeneca vaccines, said: "I had a tremor in my hand, I had dormant mast-cell activation syndrome (MCAS) which flared, my face was puffy, my eyes were swollen, I had brain fog and I developed eczema and, most alarmingly, peripheral epilepsy in my leg.

It really affected my immune system." She began taking Augmented NAC and "After a few days I had a detox reaction, after about 48 hours my tremor had gone, the rash had gone, the brain fog had lifted and my MCAS is now under control."

"I recommend it to all my patients as it is a key part of my 'Restoring Health Protocol' following either C19 infection or the injections. I receive many stories of significant improvement in symptoms after people start using Augmented NAC. The improvement can be really remarkable – it is quite life-changing."
